

Inside Out Collection is the most complex and elaborated collection. It is divided into three segments following the peculiarity of concepts streamed into the products. The entire collection uses the language of extremes, turning a simple concept into a thoughtfully conceived one.

The first segment – Koverta (Envelope) Collection represents a mixture of post-consumer waste (PET) and natural materials (wool); sharp angular envelope motif transformed into a voluminous form of the finished product; a high tech version of felt made from recycled plastic bottles coupled with very basic fabrication methods – cutting and overlapping. The cutting edge material is a high quality polyester-wool felt, where polyester carries an ecological identity, while wool provides a desired surface softness.

The following segment – Zakljuchaj Me (Lock Me Up) Collection, is entirely oriented to high tech; made from the 100% PET felt material to the use of machines for tailoring causing transfer of manual work from production to the target customer who now becomes an active participant in creating and is not only a consumer any more. Precision is essential in this collection. Pieces are assembled by turning inside out little felt keys through "locks" cut in precise places on one piece tailored items body. This concept also influences buyer's perception of consumerism and self-involvement in general terms. It also raises the awareness of how little we use our own hands for creating or playing in real, physical world. Everything today is either instant and ready to use or virtual.

Pappette Collection – "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy." Pappette as a concept was born just few days before Christmas 2014. At that time our studio traditionally becomes a playroom where we prepare gifts for the loved ones and make decorations for office and home.

Big cake roll, already half way eaten, played a crucial role in Pappette Christmas tree decorations emergence. Rolling felt stripes and squeezing them into aluminium cups resulted in creating a range of contemporary decorations, little glossy colour vortexes. Felt stripes are Koverta Coll. and Zakljuchaj Me Coll. production leftovers as well as the aluminium cups which come from a local metallographic canning factory MGK Pack d.d. This recycle frame confirms one unwritten culinary maxim: "cleaning" your fridge makes best dishes!

On latter days decorations were used as starting design for designing Pappette wall installation and Pappette low stool design. Stripes are machine cutted but carelessly regarding their width resulting in beautiful and lush structures. Pappette installation is created by applying small Pappettes on felt covered plywood in various dimensions. Beside monochromatic reliefs in 14 different colours, most distinct are the colourful ones for their creating an impression of (chroma keying picture) pixel graphic.

Pappette low stools also come in 3 dimensions, with firm but cosy pappette seating. Their rounded construction and rich colour chart gives them an eye catching effect impossible to miss.
